

GRAM?

GRAM

Here we are again.

The world is falling apart

So what the fuck is Gram? Gram?

It is the sound of global collapse happening in slow motion right before our eyes
The Glorious noise of chaos bouncing along to a disco beat.

We've been here before. From the funk of late 70s South Bronx, through the cold, repetitive beat of 80s Detroit techno into the sampled layers of Ed Banger and the French disco revolution, Gram? Gram has stolen it all. Steal something old to make something new. It's what we humans do.

And we've been here before. In different colours, with members having graced Maida Vale Radio 1 sessions for Steve Lamacq, MTV tours for Zane Lowe, festival appearances at Leeds/Reading and Wireless Festival, as well as tours with Editors, Kooks and with label mate french legends Carpenter Brut and Sebastian.

What happens when you open your eyes? Do you really see?

That all depends on what you want to perceive.

Now _____ wake up
